

8.28.12 - introduction

9.4.12 - class missed, but spoke to the professor beforehand. Read up on D2L what we will be doing in this one and the next. He mentioned terms to go over and some sample sounds of music to listen to.

This weeks readings (2) will be on Audio Editors. You can use articles from magazines, newspapers, books, the internet, etc. Cost, your familiarity, features, or currently using are all points you might be interested in. They are due at the beginning of class next week. Use 4 by 6 notecards.

9.11.12 - music software still not available, so we talked about speakers and sounds, ohms, etc. Notecards topic - 2 Readings - Online Resources for Digital Music

9.18.12 - played around with the sound editor Cakewalk, project is to rearrange a speech to make it say something different

9.25.12 - lecture, got to leave early after turning in Project 1

10.2.12 - lecture about looping, no readings for next week, project 2 due on 10.16.12

10.9.12 - lecture on copyright, Project 2 due next class.

10.16 - fall break, no class

10.23 - short lecture, Project 3 due next class

10.30 - lecture about MIDI, project 4 up next

11.6 - class cancelled

11.13 - clips of music on Youtube to make a derivative work

11.20 - lecture on mixing, project 5 assigned

11.27 - lecture on archiving and preservation

12.4 - lecture on future of audio formats. there is no final exam!