

- 35 USC §102 - Novelty section, changed from "first to invent" to "first to file"
- 35 USC §103 - "non obviousness", all elements of a claim cannot be found in two or more items of prior art
- 35 USC §112 - lists specifications needed in a patent application, including technical detail and best mode of making and using
- horizontal restraint - price-fixing of a product amongst colluding vendors
- vertical restraint - restraints applied at different levels of production
- "means for" analysis -
- blurring - using a trademark on a second product to indicate the source of a product
- WIPO (World Intellectual Property Organization) - one of the 4 organizations that can resolve domain name disputes
- vaporware - announcements of future products which mislead people to wait and buy
-